

Hyndburn Wheels for All

The Woodlands will be used by the local disability cycling centre. The newly surfaced paths are ideal for the specially adapted bikes and provide individuals with a 'realistic' cycling experience within a safe, yet stimulating environment.

PROSPECTS Foundation

Hyndburn's environmental charity, PROSPECTS Foundation has worked with many young people to create sculptures and carry out woodland management and other activities in The Woodlands. Volunteers from Clayton and beyond will be involved with looking after the woodland for both wildlife and the people who will use it. The Clayton with Altham PROSPECTS Panel is the area's local volunteer group who meet on a monthly basis. For more information about PROSPECTS Foundation see our website:

the woodlands

The Woodlands is an area of natural beauty in Clayton-le-moors. It is a wooded area with a network of footpaths open to the public all year round.

Following consultation with the local community and user groups, funding was secured for a range of improvements including better access; habitat management; a wonderful nature trail; artwork including a carved wooden owl and new seating.

Community groups helped with the sapling clearance; children from Clayton Youth and Community Centre contributed to art works and local schools and Park View Day Centre have been involved in creating artwork for the information boards around the site.

The improvements were completed in spring 2011.

The Woodlands is great for both groups and individuals who want to experience the wonderful sights, sounds and smells that the trees, plants and wildlife bring to the area. It's a fantastic place to come with children to follow the nature trail or to hunt for the various pieces of wildlife art around the site.

See how many animals you can find but look carefully as some of them are well hidden!
